ABOUT THE FILM: What sex is to interpersonal relationships, eating is to the human-environment relationship: a consummation of humans' connection to the living biosphere. But while sticking one's tongue into a new and exciting environment may be an act as old as the planet, it can also lead to some nasty surprises.

ABOUT THE FILMMAKER: Kate Hollett is an award winning artist and filmmaker. She has exhibited in Toronto, New York, Martha's Vineyard, Italy and Madrid. Her work has received much media attention including BRAVO, CBC, The National Post, The Toronto Star, MacLeans and Scarlett magazine. Kate was voted BEST VISUAL ARTIST in the city by NOW Magazine in Toronto.

ABOUT THE BOOK: David Waltner-Toews brings us tales of the bacteria, viruses, and parasites that have made their way into our food supply. He explores the global patterns of foodborne disease, from ciguatera toxins in fish to pandemics of Salmonella, and the changes in climate, culture, agriculture, and trade that have led to the emergence of new diseases and epidemics. Finally, he offers effective responses, ranging from changing personal habits to managing international trade and agricultural practices.
